Present Utility Rate Formula Is Retained

Ohio House Scuttles DiSalle-Backed Plan To Revise Figuring

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio utilities have won their months-long fight and the state's traditional rate-making formula will continue in force for at least another two years.

The Ohio House Wednesday night scuttled a bill, despite a personal plea by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, to junk the RCN formula by which utility rate bases are figured. (RCN stands for "replacement cost new, less observed depreciation.")

The Democratic-dominated House defeated a proposed new formula 80-53 in a night session after hours of maneuvering in an effort to delay the vote until Tuesday.

Twenty-two Democrats joined 58 Republicans to junk the bill despite the 1958 Democratic state platform declaration: "The old formula for setting rates for public utility services has become outmoded and costly to the consumers."

Through their long fight, utilities insisted their rates are lower than those in nearby states and any change in the RCN formula would disrupt the entire rate-making picture.

The defeated proposal would have set up a formula to determine the present value of a utility's property—the rate base—by giving equal consideration and weight to net investment and an up-to-date appraisal.

In another major action Wednesday, the House passed 83-50 and sent to the Senate a bill creating a Dairy Marketing Division with power to prohibit sale of milk and dairy products below cost to attract other business.

The measure was termed by one of its co-sponsors, Rep. Rhoderic G. Mills (D-Perry), as "the last ray of hope for survival of the dwindling dairies in Ohio. The smaller ones can't stand a long price war with the big dairies. When local business is forced out, prices will rise again."

Backers of the bill insisted it merely would set a price floor, but Rep. Harry Corkwell (R-Putnam) asserted:

"Your milk price is going to go up if this bill passes."

Other provisions of the bill included:

Trio Nabbed By Lawman in Athens County

Two women and a man, suspected of pulling a robbery in Pickaway County last week, have been apprehended in Athens County, Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff reported today.

The trio was identified as Susie Miller, 52, Rose John, 59, and Tom John, 26, all of Toledo. Sheriff Radcliff said they appeared to be gypsies.

They were arrested by the Athens County Sheriff's Department in connection with a robbery pulled yesterday in Vinton County. Two women and a man answering the same description took a wallet containing $75 from the Frank Black farm on Route 674 near Marcy last week.

The trio also is being held in connection with several other robberies in surrounding counties. Sheriff Radcliff and Black went to Athens today to make possible identification of the three. Black had talked with the man and women before his wallet was discovered missing.

Ottawa Village Set For Own Income Tax

OTTAWA, Ohio (AP)—Ottawa councilmen Wednesday night approved steps toward passage of a 1 per cent village income tax which would be enacted June 1 as an emergency measure.

The five-year tax would provide $80,000 a year for capital improvements, including street construction and sewer repair.

Village voters have twice defeated five-mill operating levies. A proposed three-mill levy was turned down once.

Herter To Host Vital Talks of Big 4 Ministers

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will meet with the other Big Four foreign ministers tonight at a dinner which could prove a turning point in the negotiations over a summit conference agreement.

Some high diplomats attached great importance to the dinner, though it is billed as purely social.

British and French officials said the assembly of 12 top men of the Big Four conference at Herter's villa offered an opportunity to get away from the repetitive formal debate of the regular sessions and come to grips with basic problems.

They even spoke of a possible series of such social affairs as a means of swinging the conference into more private negotiations.

U.S. officials, however, attempted to dampen growing interest in the dinner. They said there was no thought beforehand on Herter's part of trying to get any conference work done or to promote any secret diplomacy.

Officials of all three Western delegations conceded that it was literally impossible to predict ahead of time what would happen because Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko might create an opening or make a move which they cannot anticipate.

Gromyko is already beginning to prod the three Western ministers into letting them know what their terms are for agreement on a summit conference. Herter, Britain's Selwyn Lloyd and Maurice Couve de Murville of France are reported playing hard to get, chiefly because France and West Germany — meaning President Charles de Gaulle and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer — have insisted this is the best bargaining line to take.

The debate on contradictory Soviet and Western German peace plans is continuing but getting nowhere in the main conference sessions. The question all four big-power delegations are now worrying about is how and when to start secret negotiations.

East and West German delegations were not invited to the dinner. Herter, Lloyd and Couve de Murville have been putting out word for days that there would be no point in having private talks if the Germans were included because the meeting would be too big.

Unsure of what concessions if any the Soviets might be willing to make, they were refusing to fall in with implied Soviet suggestions that they put aside their sweeping master plan for German reunification and get down to bargaining on such individual issues as the future of Berlin.

Chiefly on French insistence, the Western ministers were holding back until Gromyko produced more acceptable proposals.

Gromyko's wary opening moves were made both in the formal sessions of the conference at the Palace of Nations and in private talks with the Western ministers, especially Britain's Selwyn Lloyd.

Western diplomats reported Wednesday night that the Soviet foreign minister told Lloyd he was definitely interested in negotiating seriously on four issues included in the Western package plan for a German peace settlement.

These call for a new arrangement for West Berlin, an East-West nonaggression declaration, creation of a committee of West Germany and East Germans to bring the two Germanys closer together, and the establishment of a central European zone in which armed forces would be limited.

U.S. Today May Launch Satellite Carrying Mice

27 Underworld Punks Indicted By U.S. Jury

NEW YORK (AP)—The power of the federal government today was turned upon the notorious 1957 underworld convention at Apalachin, N.Y., with 27 delegates indicted on charges of conspiring to balk probes of it.

Arrests of the defendants quickly got under way. Many already were in trouble, and some in jail, as a result of refusal to answer questions of various investigatory agencies previously.

The crackdown was the result of nearly a year's effort by a special crime-busting agency set up by the U.S. attorney general's office, with teams of agents working across the nation.

The Apalachin delegates came from many cities, and authorities since have been struggling to peg its purpose. The general opinion is that it was for tightening or altering control over a vast empire of rackets.

All 63 persons who attended the conclave were named in the indictment but only 27 as defendants.

The remaining 36 were tabbed as coconspirators. The reason for this was not immediately made clear. Usually such action is for lack of enough evidence. Sometimes those named as coconspirators have indicated willingness to cooperate with, or testify for, the prosecution.

The latter possibility seemed remote in this instance. If convicted of conspiracy to obstruct justice, as charged in the indictment, the 27 defendants could receive five-year prison sentences and $10,000 fines each.

Some claimed those in attendance were top echelon figures of the Mafia, the notorious underworld society spawned in Sicily many years ago.

Participants in the gathering either refused to talk about it or claimed it was nothing more than an expression of friendship for the host, Joseph L. Barbara Sr., ill with a heart ailment.

Seven of those who attended have been held in jail here several months for refusal to answer questions of state crime probes. An eighth recently obtained freedom on appeal.

In the federal indictment, Barbara was named as a coconspirator, but not a defendant.

Three of the defendants, Joseph Profaci of Brooklyn, Pasquale Turigiano of Endwell, N.Y., and Joseph Magliocco of Brooklyn, also were accused of perjury.

Other defendants were: Joseph Bonanno, Tucson, Ariz.; Russell A. Bufalino, Pittston, Pa.; Ignatius Cannone, Endwell; Paul C. Castellano, Brooklyn; Joseph F. Ciccillo, Dallas, Tex.; Frank Cucchiara, Watertown, Mass.; John A. De Marco, Shaker Heights, Ohio; Frank A. De Simone, Downey, Calif.;

Anatale Evola, Brooklyn; Salvatore Falcone, Utica, N.Y.; Joseph Ida, Highland Park, N.J.; James V. La Duca, Buffalo, N.Y.; Louis A. Larasso, Linden, N.J.; Carmine Lobardozzi, Brooklyn; Antonio Magaddino, Niagara Falls, N.Y.; Frank T. Majuri, Elizabeth, N.J.; Michele Miranda, Forest Hills, Queens, N.Y.; John C. Montana, Buffalo; John Ormento, Lido Beach, N.Y.; James Ostico, Pittston; Anthony P. Riela, West Orange, N.J.; John T. Scallish, Cleveland, Ohio; Angelo J. Scialandra, Wyoming, Pa.; Simone Scozzari, Rosemead, Calif.

Justus stated he was informed that the reconstructed highway would come within nine feet of his front porch. Highway referee conducting the hearing, Cap Sheley, Division 6 Director, said the highway would come within 25 to 30 feet of his porch.

Sheley said Justus would have approximately 25 feet of lawn left after the improvement. He said the highway's center line would be moved five feet toward the north.

MAJOR PORTION of the improvement calls for relocating Route 22 in front of the County Infirmary. The Highway Department plans to remove the present curve, which has caused numerous accidents over the years.

This relocation will call for a bridge to be erected over the County Infirmary pond. The actual relocation will cover 0.51 of a mile.

Boy, Plus His Teddy Bear, Due To Enter Ohio Prison

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A boy who still clings to his stuffed teddy bear enters Ohio Penitentiary in a few days to begin a life sentence for murder.

As Richard Harter Jr. moves into this unlikely environment for a youth of his age—he's 15—considerable furore has arisen. A major campaign to revise some Ohio penal laws may result.

Young Harter, of Garfield Heights, was convicted of second-degree murder last week in Mahoning County Common Pleas Court for his confessed shooting of Edward E. Craven, 61-year-old Youngstown railroad worker, last Oct. 8.

His sentence to the penitentiary was automatic—set by state law—since Richard was indicted and tried for the crime as if he were an adult. From the way he reads the statutes, said sentencing Judge David G. Jenkins, the penitentiary is the only place Richard could be sent.

Juvenile court at Youngstown, which had jurisdiction in the case originally, gave it up for about the same reason. But not without some bitter criticism of the system by the court's veteran Judge Henry P. Beckenbach.

"The people of Ohio should hang their heads in shame over this case," said the judge. Richard, he said, needs treatment badly. He became convinced of this, the judge said, when the boy and his record were before him.

The issue is, he said: Where to get the needed treatment? The answer, Beckenbach said, is that it can't be had under present Ohio law.

Richard, as the law requires,

Cook Admits Slaying Teacher

Woman's Body Found In Cleveland Heights

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 29-year-old short-order cook early today admitted the strangulation slaying of a Garfield Heights high school teacher whose body was found in a shallow grave covered with pine branches, Cleveland Heights police reported.

Detective Capt. Earl J. Gordon said Cecil W. Hanner "broke" under 20 hours of questioning. No charge was filed against him immediately.

Questioning resumed Wednesday night after police took Hanner to Hunting Valley to view the grave where the body of Mrs. Mary K. Jardine, 42, was found.

A couple riding horses on a private trail through the 1,000-acre estate of the late Windsor T. White discovered the body Tuesday. It was lying face down in a ditch covered with pine branches and was nude except for a stocking on the right leg.

Police said Hanner was hazy about details of the slaying and could not remember exactly where the slaying took place. He led them to the general vicinity.

Capt. H. J. Murphy and Captain Gordon said Hanner told them he had "felt like killing before."

Hanner was picked up Wednesday morning and questioned throughout the day. He readily admitted that he had a date Saturday night with Mrs. Jardine, the mother of two children, but steadfastly denied that he had anything to do with her death.

He maintained that he had left Mrs. Jardine on a corner near her home in Cleveland Heights early Sunday morning after an evening of visiting taverns. He told detectives that he "blacked out" sometimes when drinking heavily.

Cleveland Heights Police Chief Edward Gaffney quoted him as saying: "If my other self did this during a blackout I have no way of knowing and am not responsible."

The BIS escapes were apprehended a few minutes later at the north edge of Chillicothe by police in that city. Deputy Sheriff Robert Hoover, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Hoover, and Police Sgt. Turney Ross traveled to Chillicothe to bring the youths back.

MRS. HOOVER said the car was taken from Gordon's parking lot on Scioto St. She had left the auto there this morning for repairs.

The BIS escapes, both 16, are from Hamilton. They were at the industrial school on 18 counts of auto thefts in Hamilton. BIS officials today said this marks the third time the two boys have walked away from the institution.

The youths told Ross and Hoover that they hopped a train to Columbus yesterday and then hitchhiked a ride to Circleville this morning.

BIS spokesman requested that the boys be charged here with auto larceny.

Ohio Coed Held In Hatchet Attack

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Rosa Watterson, 29, who was attacked by a hatchet-wielding classmate while asleep in her college dormitory room Wednesday, remained in critical condition at a hospital here today.

Buncombe County Sheriff Lawrence E. Brown said her assailant, Patricia Dennis, 22, of Lyndhurst, Ohio, is being held on an open charge.

The two are first-year students at Warren Wilson Junior College at nearby Swannanoa. Miss Watterson is from Guilford College, N. C.

Authorities said Miss Dennis told them she was jealous of Miss Watterson because she had taken her friends away.

TEACHER SLAIN — Mrs. Mary Jardine (top), high school English teacher in Garfield Heights, O., near Cleveland, was found strangled to death on a 1,000-acre farm. Police are holding Cecil Hanner (bottom), restaurant manager, in connection with the murder. He has admitted taking the divorced mother of two children on a date.

Air Force Plans Recovery Of Nose Cone

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Unofficial sources say the Air Force hopes to fire four mice into orbit around the earth today—and later recover them intact.

Western Aviation magazine stated: "Four mice will ride as passengers aboard a Discoverer III in a launch from Vandenberg Air Force Base with an attempt to be made for recovery of the payload capsule near Hawaii."

The Los Angeles Examiner said the launching would possibly be today.

Air Force officials released no information.

If the mice do go aloft, they will be the first animals the United States has tried to shoot into orbit and recover.

Discoverer II was launched April 13 from Vandenberg, 150 miles northwest of Los Angeles. Air Force planes from Hawaii were poised to recover the satellite's payload capsule, but a timing device failed and the payload wasn't dropped until the satellite was over the arctic on its 17th pass.

The nose cone was believed seen parachuting near Spitzbergen Island, north of Norway. A widespread search was made for it, but it was never reported found.

Western Aviation, a monthly trade publication, said that planes—trailing trapeze-like nets—will have 10 minutes to snare the falling capsule from Discoverer III if it parachutes into the Pacific area as planned.

The Air Force announced earlier that specially bred mice, of a strain thought sturdy enough for a space career, were being flown to Vandenberg for satellite tests.

In Cape Canaveral, Florida, the Air Force hurled a tiny nose cone of the future 6,000 miles down the Atlantic today and recovered it intact four hours later.

It was the second consecutive time the Air Force retrieved a nose cone.

The Air Force announced some eight hours after a powerful two-stage Thor-Able rocket blasted aloft that re-entry and impact of the cone was spotted by a plane cruising near the impact area northwest of Ascension Island.

The cone, which carries some of the secrets for protecting the warheads of ICBMs of tomorrow, was hoisted aboard a vessel, part of the search fleet that rendezvoused near the impact area. The launching rocket, a Thor missile topped by a Vanguard second stage, roared up at 1:40 a.m. and was in sight for more than two minutes.

A model of the capsule that will carry the first American into space is scheduled to be fired aboard a powerful Atlas intercontinental range ballistic missile this July, informed sources said today.

Launching of the 1,900-pound instrumented capsule will be a major stride for Project Mercury, the nation's multimillion-dollar effort to put man in space.

Three of the Army's reliable medium-range redstone missiles also are programmed to shoot capsules starting in July, it was learned.

The plan for the first Atlas venture is to blast the capsule 1,800 miles over the Atlantic and then recover it from the depths for study.

In the future, animal passengers will be included on the capsule flights before man takes his first big step.

Algerian Rebels Hint of Red Aid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—An Algerian rebel spokesman has indicated the Chinese Communists are going to give his forces arms for their fight against the French.

Abdelkader Chanderli, New York representative of the Algerian rebel government in exile, said Wednesday that Red China had promised assistance to a rebel mission which visited Peking.

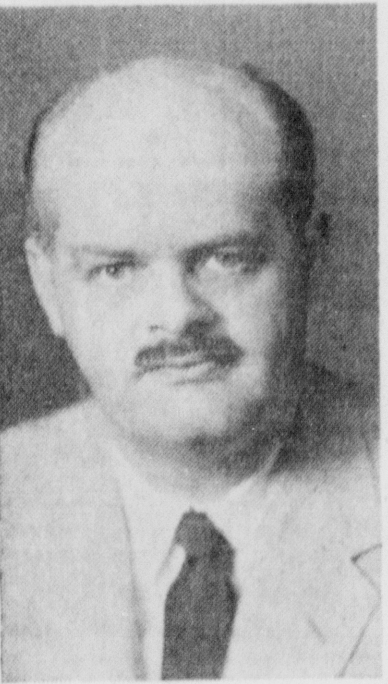

"Help is to be given," he said. "Various means of help and so on are on the way to being implemented."

He declined to go into details, saying, "That is a military matter."

program without regard to the needs of the people. They knew we were going to run out of money.

"We know this is a big budget. We know it is not popular to pass taxes. We know we are not doing the popular thing and we know some of us won't be back. But the only thing to do is the right thing. We can say we did it because it was needed."

In the showdown, nine Republicans joined the Democrats to send the budget bill to the Senate. Tablack said 50 per cent of the general fund budget—exclusive of highways—is for education, 22 per cent for welfare, health and safety and 16 per cent for mental hygiene and correction.

The Senate, in its major action of the day, passed and sent to the House a bill to replace the Ohio Water Resources Board with a nine-member Ohio Water Commission with authority to oversee the development of water resources for agriculture, industry and public use.

Under the bill sponsored by Sen. Danny D. Johnson (D-Tuscarawas), the governor would appoint six members, not more than four from either political party. Ex-officio members of the commission would be the directors of health, natural resources and public works.

The Senate also passed and sent to the House:

A resolution endorsing the "jobs after 40" campaign of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

A bill to encourage a voluntary apprenticeship program through an apprenticeship council which would be established in the Department of Industrial Relations.

A bill to continue the activities, now scheduled to end in September, of the attorney general in settling canal lands boundary disputes.

The Senate virtually completed legislative action on a bill requiring school boards to give notice of contract salaries to non-teaching employees.

Present Utility Rate Formula Is Retained

Ohio House Scuttles DiSalle-Backed Plan To Revise Figuring

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio utilities have won their months-long fight and the state's traditional rate-making formula will continue in force for at least another two years.

The Ohio House Wednesday night scuttled a bill, despite a personal plea by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, to junk the RCN formula by which utility rates are figured. (RCN stands for "replacement cost new, less observed depreciation.")

The Democratic-dominated House defeated a proposed new formula 80-53 in a night session after hours of maneuvering in an effort to delay the vote until Tuesday.

Twenty-two Democrats joined 58 Republicans to junk the bill despite the 1958 Democratic state platform declaration: "The old formula for setting rates for public utility services has become outmoded and costly to the consumers."

Through their long fight, utilities insisted their rates are lower than those in nearby states and any change in the RCN formula would disrupt the entire rate-making picture.

The defeated proposal would have set up a formula to determine the present value of a utility's property—the rate base—by giving equal consideration and weight to net investment and an up-to-date appraisal.

In another major action Wednesday, the House passed 83-50 and sent to the Senate a bill creating a Dairy Marketing Division with power to prohibit sale of milk and dairy products below cost to attract other business.

The measure was termed by one of its co-sponsors, Rep. Rhoderic G. Mills (D-Perry), as "the last ray of hope for survival of the dwindling dairies in Ohio. The smaller ones can't stand a long price war with the big dairies. When local business is forced out, prices will rise again."

Backers of the bill insisted it merely would set a price floor, but Rep. Harry Corkwell (R-Putnam) asserted:

"Your milk price is going to go up if this bill passes."
Other provisions of the bill included:

Trio Nabbed By Lawman in Athens County

Two women and a man, suspected of pulling a robbery in Pickaway County last week, have been apprehended in Athens County, Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff reported today.

The trio was identified as Susie Miller, 52, Rose John, 59, and Tom John, 26, all of Toledo. Sheriff Radcliff said they appeared to be gypsies.

They were arrested by the Athens County Sheriff's Department in connection with a robbery pulled yesterday in Vinton County. Two women and a man answering the same description took a wallet containing $75 from the Frank Black farm on Route 674 near Marcy last week.

The trio also is being held in connection with several other robberies in surrounding counties.

Sheriff Radcliff and Black went to Athens today to make possible identification of the three. Black had talked with the man and women before his wallet was discovered missing.

Ottawa Village Set For Own Income Tax

OTTAWA, Ohio (AP)—Ottawa councilmen Wednesday night approved steps toward passage of a 1 per cent village income tax which would be enacted June 1 as an emergency measure.

The five-year tax would provide $80,000 a year for capital improvements, including street construction and sewer repair.

Village voters have twice defeated five-mill operating levies. A proposed three-mill levy was turned down once.

Herter To Host Vital Talks of Big 4 Ministers

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will meet with the other Big Four foreign ministers tonight at a dinner which could prove a turning point in the negotiations over a summit conference agreement.

Some high diplomats attached great importance to the dinner, though it is billed as purely social.

British and French officials said the assembly of 12 top men of the Big Four conference at Herter's villa offered an opportunity to get away from the repetitive formal debate of the regular sessions and come to grips with basic problems.

They even spoke of a possible series of such social affairs as a means of swinging the conference into more private negotiations.

U.S. officials, however, attempted to dampen growing interest in the dinner. They said there was no thought beforehand on Herter's part of trying to get any conference work done or to promote any secret diplomacy.

Officials of all three Western delegations conceded that it was literally impossible to predict ahead of time what would happen because Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko might create an opening or make a move which they cannot anticipate.

Gromyko is already beginning to prod the three Western ministers into letting them know what their terms are for agreement on a summit conference. Herter, Britain's Selwyn Lloyd and Maurice Couve de Murville of France are reported playing hard to get, chiefly because France and West Germany—meaning President Charles de Gaulle and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer—have insisted this is the best bargaining line to take.

The debate on contradictory Soviet and Western German peace plans is continuing but getting nowhere in the main conference sessions. The question all four big-power delegations are now worrying about is how and when to start secret negotiations.

East and West German delegations were not invited to the dinner. Herter, Lloyd and Couve de Murville have been putting out word for days that there would be no point in having private talks if the Germans were included because the meeting would be too big.

Unsure of what concessions if any the Soviets might be willing to make, they were refusing to fall in with implied Soviet suggestions that they put aside their sweeping master plan for German reunification and get down to bargaining on such individual issues as the future of Berlin.

Chiefly on French insistence, the Western ministers were holding back until Gromyko produced more acceptable proposals.

Gromyko's wary opening moves were made both in the formal sessions of the conference at the Palace of Nations and in private talks with the Western ministers, especially Britain's Selwyn Lloyd.

Western diplomats reported Wednesday night that the Soviet foreign minister told Lloyd he was definitely interested in negotiating seriously on four issues included in the Western package plan for a German peace settlement.

These call for a new arrangement for West Berlin, an East-West nonaggression declaration, creation of a committee of West and East Germans to bring the two Germanys closer together, and the establishment of a central European zone in which armed forces would be limited.

One Protest Is Registered On Route 22 Improvement Job

One protest was registered today during a discussion of the proposed straightening of U. S. Route 22 northeast of here.

State Highway Department personnel met with seven interested residents of the proposed area of construction to answer questions and hear protests.

The hearing was held in the Pickaway County Engineer's office due to a trial in session in the common pleas courtroom, which originally was set as the location of the hearing.

Plans are to straighten Route 22 between Bolender-Pontius and East Ringgold-Southern Roads. Actual construction will start 600 feet east of the Children's Home entrance and end 0.1 of a mile east of the Ringgold-Southern Road.

Hospital Insurance Deal Brings Woman's Arrest

NORWALK, Ohio (AP)—A Willard mother, Mrs. Dorothy Hall, 35, was bound to the grand jury today after pleading innocent to a charge of obtaining money from a Blue Shield medical indemnity organization under false pretenses.

The deputies said she admitted forging the signatures of four different physicians on the claims.

of the existing route will revert to the abutting property owners if the relocation is approved.

The half mile relocation is part of a 3.5 mile improvement included in the Department's 1959-61 construction program.

This $600,000 project calls for the widening and reconstruction of Route 22 from 1.8 miles east of here eastward to the Fairfield County line.

The lone protest was raised by Paul Justus whose home is located on the northeast corner of the Ringgold-Southern Road and Route 22 intersection.

Justus stated he was informed that the reconstructed highway would come within nine feet of his front porch. Highway referee conducting the hearing, Cap Sheley, Division 6 Director, said the highway would come within 25 to 30 feet of his porch.

Sheley said Justus would have approximately 25 feet of lawn left after the improvement. He said the highway's center line would be moved five feet toward the north.

MAJOR PORTION of the improvement calls for relocating Route 22 in front of the County Infirmary. The Highway Department plans to remove the present curve, which has caused numerous accidents over the years.

This relocation will call for a bridge to be erected over the County Infirmary pond. The actual relocation will cover 0.51 of a mile.

27 Underworld Punks Indicted By U.S. Jury

NEW YORK (AP)—The power of the federal government today was turned upon the notorious 1957 underworld convention at Apalachin, N.Y., with 27 delegates indicted on charges of conspiring to balk probes of it.

Arrests of the defendants quickly got under way. Many already were in trouble, and some in jail, as a result of refusal to answer questions of various investigatory agencies previously.

The crackdown was the result of nearly a year's effort by a special crime-busting agency set up by the U.S. attorney general's office, with teams of agents working across the nation.

The Apalachin delegates came from many cities, and authorities since have been struggling to peg its purpose. The general opinion is that it was for tightening or altering control over a vast empire of rackets.

All 63 persons who attended the conclave were named in the indictment but only 27 as defendants.

The remaining 36 were tabbed as coconspirators. The reason for this was not immediately made clear. Usually such action is for lack of enough evidence. Sometimes those named as coconspirators have indicated willingness to cooperate with, or testify for, the prosecution.

The latter possibility seemed remote in this instance.

If convicted of conspiracy to obstruct justice, as charged in the indictment, the 27 defendants could receive five-year prison sentences and $10,000 fines each.

Some claimed those in attendance were top echelon figures of the Mafia, the notorious underworld society spawned in Sicily many years ago.

Participants in the gathering either refused to talk about it or claimed it was nothing more than an expression of friendship for the host, Joseph L. Barbara Sr., ill with a heart ailment.

Seven of those who attended have been held in jail here several months for refusal to answer questions of state crime probes. An eighth recently obtained freedom on appeal.

In the federal indictment, Barbara was named as a coconspirator, but not a defendant.

Three of the defendants, Joseph Profaci of Brooklyn, Pasquale Turrigiano of Endwell, N.Y., and Joseph Magliocco of Brooklyn, also were accused of perjury.

Anatole Evola, Brooklyn; Salvatore Falcone, Utica, N.Y.; Joseph Ida, Highland Park, N.J.; James V. La Duca, Buffalo, N.Y.; Louis A. Larasso, Linden, N.J.; Carmine Lombardozzi, Brooklyn; Antonio Magaddino, Niagara Falls, N.Y.; Frank T. Majuri, Elizabeth, N.J.; Michele Miranda, Forest Hills, Queens, N.Y.; John C. Montana, Buffalo; John Ormento, Lido Beach, N.Y.; James Ostico, Pittston, N.J.; John P. Riela, West Orange, N.J.; John T. Scallish, Cleveland, Ohio; Angelo J. Scianarra, Wyoming, Pa.; Simone Scozzari, Rosemead, Calif.

MRS. HOOVER said the car was taken from Gordon's parking lot on Scioto St. She had left the auto there this morning for repairs.

The BIS escapees, both 16, are from Hamilton. They were at the industrial school on 18 counts of auto thefts in Hamilton. BIS officials today said this marks the third time the two boys have walked away from the institution.

The youths told Ross and Hoover that they hopped a train to Columbus yesterday and then hitchhiked a ride to Circleville this morning.

BIS spokesmen requested that the boys be charged here with auto larceny.

Ohio Coed Held In Hatchet Attack

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Rosa Watterson, 20, who was attacked by a hatchet-wielding classmate while asleep in her college dormitory room Wednesday, remained in critical condition at a hospital here today.

Buncombe County Sheriff Laurence E. Brown said her assailant, Patricia Dennis, 22, of Lyndhurst, Ohio, is being held on an open charge.

The two are first-year students at Warren Wilson Junior College at nearby Swannanoa. Miss Watterson is from Guilford College, N. C.

Authorities said Miss Dennis told them she was jealous of Miss Watterson because she had taken her friends away.

Boy, Plus His Teddy Bear, Due To Enter Ohio Prison

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A boy who still clings to his stuffed teddy bear enters Ohio Penitentiary in a few days to begin a life sentence for murder.

As Richard Harter Jr. moves into this unlikely environment for a youth of his age—he's 15—considerable furore has arisen. A major campaign to revise some Ohio penal laws may result.

Young Harter, of Garfield Heights, was convicted of second-degree murder last week in Mahoning County Common Pleas Court for his confessed shooting of Edward E. Craven, 61-year-old Youngstown railroad worker, last Oct. 8.

His sentence to the penitentiary was automatic—set by state law—since Richard was indicted and tried for the crime as if he were an adult. From the way he reads the statutes, said sentencing Judge David G. Jenkins, the penitentiary is the only place Richard could be sent.

Juvenile court at Youngstown, which had jurisdiction in the case originally, gave it up for about the same reason. But not without some bitter criticism of the system by the court's veteran Judge Henry P. Beckenbach.

"The people of Ohio should hang their heads in shame over this case," said the judge.

Richard, he said, needs treatment badly. He became convinced of this, the judge said, when the boy and his record were before him.

The issue is, he said: Where to get the needed treatment? The answer, Beckenbach said, is that it can't be had under present Ohio law.

Richard, as the law requires,

Cook Admits Slaying Teacher

Woman's Body Found In Cleveland Heights

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 29-year-old short-order cook early today admitted the strangulation slaying of a Garfield Heights high school teacher whose body was found in a shallow grave covered with pine branches, Cleveland Heights police reported.

Detective Capt. Earl J. Gordon said Cecil W. Hanner "broke" under 20 hours of questioning. No charge was filed against him immediately.

Questioning resumed Wednesday night after police took Hanner to Hunting Valley to view the grave where the body of Mrs. Mary K. Jardine, 42, was found.

A couple riding horses on a private trail through the 1,000-acre estate of the late Windsor T. White discovered the body Tuesday. It was lying face down in a ditch covered with pine branches and was nude except for a stocking on the right leg.

Police said Hanner was hazy about details of the slaying and could not remember exactly where the slaying took place. He led them to the general vicinity.

Capt. H. J. Murphy and Captain Gordon said Hanner told them he had "felt like killing before."

Hanner was picked up Wednesday morning and questioned throughout the day. He readily admitted that he had a date Saturday night with Mrs. Jardine, the mother of two children, but steadfastly denied that he had anything to do with her death.

He maintained that he had left Mrs. Jardine on a corner near her home in Cleveland Heights early Sunday morning after an evening of visiting taverns. He told detectives that he "blacked out" sometimes when drinking heavily.

Cleveland Heights Police Chief Edward Gaffney quoted him as saying: "If my other self did this during a blackout I have no way of knowing and am not responsible."

TEACHER SLAIN—Mrs. Mary Jardine (top), high school English teacher in Garfield Heights, O., near Cleveland, was found strangled to death on a 1,000-acre farm. Police are holding Cecil Hanner (bottom), restaurant manager, in connection with the murder. He has admitted taking the divorced mother of two children on a date.

was turned over to Juvenile court and Judge Beckenbach. By Ohio law, a juvenile court judge is given considerable latitude in determining how such a case is to be handled.

Technically, by law, Richard had committed no "crime." Crimes can be committed in Ohio only by those over 18, according to a strict interpretation of the law. Richard won't be 16 until mid-September.

If juvenile court retains jurisdiction, the boy is tried on a delinquency charge and the matter is disposed of privately. The judge can, however, send the case to the grand jury and common pleas court, where the offender will be "treated as an adult."

This course was followed in Richard's case, Beckenbach explained that his interpretation of the statute required it to be.

"This is murder," he said, "and whether a murderer is someone who is 2 or 52, it still is murder to me."

The judge said he tried first to get the boy into the state's Juvenile Diagnostic Center at Columbus. He was told "They had no facilities for custodial care and wouldn't touch the case."

Nor could Richard, because of his age, be sent to Mansfield Reformatory.

That left Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster but overcrowded BIS, the judge reported, hasn't room to keep its charges longer than a few months. Besides, Beckenbach noted, it has no treatment facilities.

After the case went to the grand jury and Harter was indicted, the boy was examined at Lima State Hospital for the criminal insane. Lima had said early in the case it couldn't take Richard—but as an "adult," it had to take him.

When the boy was found sane and convicted, said Common Pleas Judge Jenkins, as he understands the statute his only recourse was to sentence Richard to the penitentiary.

Dems Fighting To Avoid Cuts In Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democrats, riding high after an initial victory over administration forces, fought today to prevent cuts in their $2,100,000,000 omnibus bill.

On a key vote Wednesday, the House slapped down President Eisenhower's supporters by killing a proposed $1,300,000,000 substitute for the housing measure brought to the floor by House Banking Committee Democrats.

The vote was 203-177, with a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democratic conservatives on the losing side.

Some cuts below the amount proposed by the Banking Committee seemed likely before general passage, however.

The new public housing features of the measure were sure to come under especially sharp attack from many Democrats as well as Republicans. The bill would authorize 35,000 public housing units a year for four years. Neither the Eisenhower program nor the defeated substitute proposal provided for such structures.

There were GOP warnings that the Democratic measure faces a certain veto if it is enacted without change.

Major features of the Democratic bill, when the House started to work on it, included a three-year, $14-billion-dollar program of slum elimination, 400 millions for college housing loans, 100 millions for housing for the elderly, 140,000 new units of public housing, and lower down payments on FHA home mortgages.

Air Force Plans Recovery Of Nose Cone

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Unofficial sources say the Air Force hopes to fire four mice into orbit around the earth today—and later recover them intact.

Western Aviation magazine stated: "Four mice will ride as passengers aboard a Discoverer III in a launch from Vandenberg Air Force Base with an attempt to be made for recovery of the payload capsule near Hawaii."

The Los Angeles Examiner said the launching would possibly be today.

Air Force officials released no information.

If the mice do go aloft, they will be the first animals the United States has tried to shoot into orbit and recover.

Discoverer II was launched April 13 from Vandenberg, 150 miles northwest of Los Angeles. Air Force planes from Hawaii were poised to recover the satellite's payload capsule, but a timing device failed and the payload wasn't dropped until the satellite was over the arctic on its 17th pass.

The nose cone was believed seen parachuting near Spitzbergen Island, north of Norway. A widespread search was made for it, but it was never reported found.

Western Aviation, a monthly trade publication, said that planes—trailing trapeze-like nets—will have 10 minutes to snare the falling capsule from Discoverer III if it parachutes into the Pacific area as planned.

The Air Force announced earlier that specially bred mice, of a strain thought sturdy enough for a space career, were being flown to Vandenberg for satellite tests.

In Cape Canaveral, Florida, the Air Force hurled a tiny nose cone of the future 6,000 miles down the Atlantic today and recovered it intact four hours later.

It was the second consecutive time the Air Force retrieved a nose cone.

The Air Force announced some eight hours after a powerful two-stage Thor-Able rocket blasted aloft that re-entry and impact of the cone was spotted by a plane cruising near the impact area northwest of Ascension Island.

The cone, which carries some of the secrets for protecting the warheads of ICBMs of tomorrow, was hoisted aboard a vessel, part of the search fleet that rendezvoused near the impact area. The launching rocket, a Thor missile topped by a Vanguard second stage, roared up at 1:40 a.m. and was in sight for more than two minutes.

A model of the capsule that will carry the first American into space is scheduled to be fired aboard a powerful Atlas intercontinental range ballistic missile this July, informed sources said today.

Launching of the 1,900-pound instrumented capsule will be a major stride for Project Mercury, the nation's multimillion-dollar effort to put man in space.

Three of the Army's reliable medium-range redstone missiles also are programmed to shoot capsules starting in July, it was learned.

The plan for the first Atlas venture is to blast the capsule 1,800 miles over the Atlantic and then recover it from the depths for study.

In the future, animal passengers will be included on the capsule flights before man takes his first big step.

Algerian Rebels Hint of Red Aid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—An Algerian rebel spokesman has indicated the Chinese Communists are going to give his forces arms for their fight against the French.

Abdelkader Chanderli, New York representative of the Algerian rebel government in exile, said Wednesday that Red China had promised assistance to a rebel mission which visited Peiping.

"Help is to be given," he said. "Various means of help and so on are on the way to being implemented."

He declined to go into details, saying, "That is a military matter."

Foreign Visitor Due Tomorrow

Dr. Jorge Andrade of Colombia, South America, who is visiting in the United States during the months of May and June as a guest of the American Red Cross will visit the Pickaway County Chapter on Friday.

Dr. Andrade, now the Technical Director of the Colombian Red Cross, was formerly president of the Colombian Red Cross and is one of the distinguished leaders in this hemisphere, having held some important positions at the Inter-American and International Red Cross Conferences.

As Technical Director of the Colombian Red Cross, Dr. Andrade is responsible for the disaster program of the Society, but he is also much interested in the other programs, including first aid, nursing, blood program and fund raising.

Miss Jane Wriston, field representative for the Pickaway County Chapter, will accompany Dr. Andrade to Circleville, where he will spend an informal day visiting some of the scenes of interest in connection with the recent disaster and meeting and talking with some of the people who assisted at the operation.

The Pickaway County Chapter is honored to have been selected as the only chapter in this vicinity to be visited by Dr. Andrade. Anyone who is interested is invited to stop at the office at 114 1/2 N. Court St. to meet and talk with the visitor.

Boy of 15 Due To Enter Cell At Ohio Pen

a mother objecting to sentencing a 15-year-old to the penitentiary, called the laws under which he was forced to hand down this sentence "a defect" in Ohio statutes and in justice.

He said that he was going to make "an earnest recommendation" that the boy be referred to the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction for testing and possible transfer to an institution.

And attorney Russell G. Mock, who defended Richard in his trial, is formulating a series of recommendations to the Ohio Bar Assn. proposing improved ways of dealing with cases like Richard's.

At Columbus, Warden Ralph W. Alvis said that the youngster will likely be placed in Ohio Penitentiary's school program.

The school program, says the warden, teaches inmates clerical work and puts them where they can be closely observed by prison staff officers.

Cell partners are carefully selected for the younger prisoners, Alvis added. Efforts are made to keep them from "mingling with hardened criminals."

"We have had good success with youthful offenders with this type of program," the warden ventures.

Harter, a runaway from a broken home, shot Craven near a Youngstown railroad yard and stole his car. The boy had hopped a freight after stealing his father's pistol.

Richard, who spent much of his childhood in Ashtabula County Children's Home, did poorly in school and says he was beaten by his father for being "quite defective logic for his age."

He could be paroled in 10 years —when he'll be just 25.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Richard Harter Jr. at 15 is not by a considerable margin—the youngest boy to be committed to Ohio Penitentiary.

The youngest, so far as is known, according to Warden Ralph W. Alvis, was only 12 years old when imprisoned. He was Daniel Rosenbecker, sentenced from Lucas County for manslaughter some time around the turn of the century. After some correspondence with the governor, Rosenbecker was transferred to Mansfield Reformatory. He later returned to the penitentiary and was paroled in 1911.

In the last 20 years, says Alvis, four other boys were committed to the penitentiary at age 15. Three are still prisoners.

And in 1943, a 14-year-old convicted of first-degree murder, John Boone of Cuyahoga County, was sent to the pen. He was transferred to London Prison Farm some time ago.

Shopping Mall May Work

From time to time, individuals suggest that the way to revitalize downtown core areas of cities is to ban all traffic and open them to pedestrian shoppers. This idea has a surface appeal that makes it worth probing a little further.

In August, 1957, Springfield, Ore., a town of about 13,000 population, was suffering from deteriorating business conditions in its central business district. The city's leaders decided to try an experiment.

They set up a "shoppers paradise" plan. Rerouting a state highway, Springfield for 10 days took all traffic off three blocks of its main street. The street was landscaped by bringing in trees; rides for children were provided; exhibits were set up; benches were installed for leisure; music was piped in; entertainment was offered in the evening; parking changes near-by were instituted to provide more space.

After the 10 days, shoppers, merchants and others were interviewed. It was found that shopping was made much more enjoyable; families shopped together more; elimination of traffic noise was the most noticed change; traffic moved faster through the town.

But problems also turned up: the new traffic pattern was confusing; merchants were unable to accept the idea of not having parking spaces right in front of their stores; some businesses are the kind that do not benefit from increased pedestrian traffic; entertainment drew crowds but did not increase sales; shoppers complained about distances they had to walk from parking spaces to the mall.

These results indicate that there are plus and minus factors in this scheme, as in any.

Man Can Get Oiled on Water

NEW YORK (AP)—At first the news seemed reassuring to some of us. We even felt a little smug.

But as we thought about it the whole thing became very disturbing.

The news came from London. Two doctors there reported that some people can get plastered, stoned, bombed, potted, crocked, embalm'd, stiff, inebriated, drunk, and awful silly on just plain water.

There were nine case histories of people who began with some emotional distress and found themselves reacting to water the way the rest of us react to too much liquor. Tanked up with water, their speech slurred, eyelids drooped, minds became giddy. They got hangovers the next day.

For us old-fashioned whiskey drinkers, the news was strangely pleasing at first. All along, we suspected water drinkers as being too self-righteous; behind all that rampant white virtue there had to lurk some dark vice. Now we know.

Still, it's unsettling to think about the water addict—the Aquaholic. The potential member of Aquaholics Anonymous. The had water drinker could become more of a social problem than the alcoholic. There's so much of the stuff around.

How would you get a guy off this cheap sauce? Where would you hide him?

Every swimming pool would be suspect. So would every bath and shower and no Aquaholic could be allowed to take either alone. The worst possible way to begin a marriage with one would be a honeymoon to Niagara Falls.

The office water cooler would take on pathological overtones. The phrase, "Ice water in his veins," would take on a dark meaning and TVA. Grand Coulee Dam and every irrigation project from Arizona to the Negev would suddenly acquire new fanatical supporters.

The problems don't end there. Which wagon would the Aquaholic go on after he makes his New Year's resolution? Certainly not the water wagon.

How would you bring him back to life on the morning after? Black coffee would be verboten; it has water in it. Likewise tomato juice. Even 100-proof whiskey would be out because it has 50 per cent water. Liquid mercury would be safe except it would kill him.

Oil and water, you say, don't mix. Right! Give him cod liver oil, castor oil, or just crankcase oil. That would sober him up but in the process you'd be getting the water addict well-oiled.

Try and Stop Me

THE CRUSTY EDITOR of a famous newspaper has these points for the edification of his staff:

1. Opinions change. Therefore entertain none of your own.

2. Belief is for the idle rich. When I ask you, KNOW.

3. Act happy. The world will learn to love you someday.

4. Report facts. Fiction pays less than crime.

5. To err is human, to forgive divine. Don't count on it.

6. I rarely do favors. When I fire you, thank me.

There's a junior up at Smith college whose face is very red these days. "Remember that backless, low cut little dress I knocked 'em dead with at the Yale prom?" she prodded her roommate.

Keep Diet during Vacation

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

There are many things for those of you on a sodium-restricted diet to remember when traveling on summer vacations.

Even a mild sodium restriction naturally causes some changes in your daily diet. And you are apt to have difficulty following your prescribed diet when eating out.

Just about any diet of this type prohibits the use of salt at the table. This won't be any problem since you can control the salting of foods in front of you.

However, you can't always control the chef in the restaurant kitchen. Generally, foods should be salted only about half as much as is customarily done during cooking for those on a sodium-restricted diet.

At least mention this to the waitress. It might do some good.

No matter how hungry you are, stick to your prescribed diet. Eat only the foods your doctor recommends, even if you don't get a full meal.

Foods served by restaurants are often salty or they are salt preserved or high in calories.

Sodium, you must understand, is not salt. But salt (sodium chloride) contains a great deal of sodium. As a matter of fact, it is about 50 per cent sodium. That's why you have to cut down on its use.

Many foods contain natural sodium and some contain more than others.

Generally, fruits will contain little natural sodium. The amount in vegetables varies and relatively large amounts are found in meats, fish, poultry, milk and eggs.

Check with the waitress to learn whether the chef uses monosodium glutamate to bring out the flavor of certain foods. If he does, better not order them.

While it helps make the food tastier for most folks, its sodium content precludes its use for those whose sodium intake is restricted. Drinking water also contains sodium. If you are on a mild sodium-restricted diet, you probably don't have to worry about this and can drink regular water wherever you travel.

If you are on a more strict sodium diet, it's best to check with the local heart association or health department. If the water contains more than five milligrams of sodium per each eight ounces (one cup) you had better drink distilled water.

Answer: No.

Public Life Not Always Easy

Cyrus Eaton, the capitalist, also opposes the appointment of Adm. Lewis L. Strauss as Secretary of Commerce.

Eaton is the Cleveland capitalist who conducts a nationwide propaganda in favor of doing business with Soviet Russia. So the pro-Russian capitalist, Cyrus Eaton, wrote a letter to a Democratic senator instructing him to take "with the utmost seriousness" a recommendation that Adm. Lewis Strauss be retired permanently.

Eaton's letter was on the stationery of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co., a public corporation.

To this letter from Eaton, the Democratic senator from Connecticut, Thomas J. Dodd, replied:

"Dear Mr. Eaton: I have your letter of March 24, and a copy of an editorial from the Louisville Courier-Journal of March 16, concerning the appointment of Mr. Lewis Strauss as Secretary of Commerce.

"I note that your letter suggests that the editorial of the Louisville Courier-Journal 'must be taken with the utmost seriousness by the Democratic majority in the Senate.'

"I have read the editorial with great interest, but I take it from your letter that you are opposed to the confirmation of Mr. Strauss, and this in itself will be taken with the utmost seriousness by me in favor of Mr. Strauss.

Very truly yours,
Thomas J. Dodd"

The Louisville "Courier-Journal" editorial is most interesting and may even be of some significance. It tells how Strauss is energetic and cannot remain idle very long. Then it goes on to say:

"... but Mr. Strauss's appointment has not yet been confirmed in the Senate. Each time the subject is mentioned, deep-throated growls come from senators who can hardly wait to vote against him, and his confirmation is one of the certainties least likely to encourage bets around Washington.

"Under these circumstances the normal man would be inclined to speak softly, walk on tip-toe and engage in no controversy more unsettling than the possibility of rain or shine. Not so Mr. Strauss."

Why should a member of the President's Cabinet speak softly and walk on tip-toe when there is business of the government to be done? Must a man cheapen himself before confirmation by the Senate?

But hark! The Louisville "Courier-Journal" lets a cat out of a bag. This is the story it tells:

"He promptly rejected an application for the export of some 12,000-odd tons of 28 and 30-inch pipe to the Soviet Union.

"He has this right under the Export Control Act, but it is one that former secretaries have exercised subject to the advice of

Presbyterians Show Increases

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. recorded increases in membership, number of ministers, Sunday school enrollment and financial support, its leaders said in a report prepared for the opening session of its 171st General Assembly today.

The church's membership in 1958 reached a high of 3,159,582, compared with 3,102,572 in 1957. Sunday school enrollment rose to 1,932,954 from 1,908,658. The number of ministers jumped to 11,801 from 11,573.

Contributions for the church's overall program in 1958 swelled to $242,583,778. It was $232,989,450 the previous year.

other departments, principally the State Department.

Is that not the pipe-line that Anastas Mikoyan was holding out as a carrot in front of American businessmen? Was he not telling of the pipe-line to be built from beyond the Urals to the heart of Europe, so that Russian-owned oil could dominate Europe? Does Cyrus Eaton want Lewis Strauss permanently retired because he refused to let that deal go through?

The Louisville "Courier-Journal," after much discussion of inter-departmental quarrelling on this subject, says:

"It is fatiguing to think that his contentious man is already stirring up his own brand of inter-departmental mischief, before he is even officially installed as Commerce Secretary, and that, if confirmation is given his appointment, he can do so for almost two years longer."

Oh! Dear! Oh! Dear! Let us not get fatigued. Why should we not all live in quiet peace and gentle conformity and let the Russians get away with what they want to get away with, as long as they are not too noisy about it?

Perhaps it were best always to have sweet and easy persons in public office, so that nobody would be fatigued by the contentiousness which establishes truth and brings the facts of deceit, subversion and even treason to the surface.

Bing's Boys --- Whither Bound?

Baby of Crosby Brothers Referred to as 'Phantom'

Editor's Note: Following is the last in a series of articles about Bing Crosby's four oldest sons.

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Here comes the Phantom."

That's the way the older Crosbys greet their baby brother, Lindsay. He has earned the handle by his air of mystery. While the comings and goings of the other three are fairly predictable, Lindsay is always hard to locate. Here's how the brothers describe him:

Gary: "He's like the old man (Bing). He's more quiet than the rest of us, more sly with his humor."

Phillip: "He's the coolest one of us. He has a great disposition."

Dennis: "Lindsay just exists." Lindsay differs in looks, too. He is the darkest of the four, with curly brown hair and heavy eyebrows, a slim, handsome face with cleft chin. At 21, he seems amazingly mature.

Gary and the twins were only a year apart. Lindsay came three and a half years later, and he recalls being an unwelcome tag-along during his boyhood. After Dixie died, Bing dropped his career to spend most of a year with Lindsay. They toured Europe.

Reds Writers Union Said Too Wealthy

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Writers Union is loaded with money, and authorities want to know why it isn't being spent.

The official auditing commission told writers now in session here that one of the union's main troubles was its failure to persuade writers to go out and gather material.

The auditors said that over the past four years the union has made a profit of 119 million rubles — nearly 30 million dollars at the official ruble rate—from the activities of its two publishing houses — Soviet Writer and Literary Gazette.

Observers said the trouble might result from some writers' unwillingness to leave the comforts of Moscow.

Free admission of pupils and support of schools by general taxation were basic principles embodied in a plan for public-school education that was adopted by Akron, Ohio in 1846 and became a pattern for the nation.

where Lindsay pursued his interest in art.

The lad attended a semester at Williams College in Massachusetts, then dropped out to serve his Army duty. "I liked Williams, but I didn't think I was getting anything out of it," he says.

Most of his Army service was at Ft. Ord, 300 miles north of Hollywood. It was during this time that he decided on a show business career. He emceed an Army show on a Los Angeles TV station and sang for teen-agers at roller rinks and dance halls.

"One night I looked down at all those kids watching me and I discovered I was enjoying myself," he says.

Recently out of the Army, Lindsay shares a two-bedroom hillside home with singer Jimmy Boyd.

He has made some records with fair success — "But they wanted me to sing rock 'n' roll and my voice is too low for that," Jerry Wald feels he has great promise as an actor and wants to cast him in "Hound Dog Man." But Lindsay insists that nothing will interfere with the brother act the Crosbys are preparing for a nationwide tour.

Mrs. Corcoran Is Awarded Best of Show Flower Honors

A complete program, "Growing to Arranging", was the all-day study material presented by the Pickaway County Council of Garden Clubs for members belonging to the Ohio Assn. of Garden Clubs held yesterday in Trinity Lutheran Parish House.

Registration began at 9:30 a. m. with Mrs. Walter Wright, chairman; Mrs. Paul Counts was co-chairman and she was assisted by her committee.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Carl G. Zehner, opening the meeting.

The morning session was the organization business conducted by the Council's president, Mrs. Donald H. Watt.

Mrs. John M. Woodrow, Columbus, the Regional Director, outlined the program for District 9 for the summer months.

On June 1, the Franklin County open meeting will be held at Jeffery Mansion, Columbus; June 7, Columbus Rose Show, in the Youth Center, Ohio State Fair Grounds, from 1:30 p. m. to 7 p. m.; June 8-12, Nature Group, Glenn Helen; August, 5, 6, 7, at Lincoln Lodge; Columbus Refresher Course for all state judges and those who passed the five schools and Sept. 10 and 11, flats convention, Cincinnati.

Four clinics are being arranged for District 9, two in flower arranging and two on Horticulture; one will be scheduled for Pickaway County early in the fall.

Mrs. James Hot, chairman of the flower show and her committee were impressed with the quality of material displayed. Mrs. Earl McBee, Basil, a state accredited judge, offered constructive criticism to the individual winners.

Sixty-five members were present to hear Mrs. McBee's talk and demonstration on the newest trends in flower arranging. She made 15 arrangements for the group. Flower arranging, she said, was first introduced in the United States by Martha Washington. One of Mrs. McBee's displays was a Federal design.

The recently elected regional director, Mrs. Frank Smith, Groveport, spoke briefly and introduced her Pickaway County contact chairman, Miss Florence Brown, president of the Ashville Garden Club.

Highlighting the morning session were the two guest speakers, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Jones, Columbus. Mrs. Jones discussed various varieties of Hemerocallis, for color, blooming period, type of bloom and height. She gave planting instructions on space, soil preparation, fertilizer, sprays and the type of mulch for the best results.

The subject of iris culture was discussed by both speakers. Mr. Jones gave detailed suggestion on proper rose growing. They concluded by showing colored slides of their roses, iris and hemerocallis.

A covered-dish luncheon was served at noon with Mrs. Harry Turpin in charge; she was assisted by Mrs. Harry Smith and Miss Florence Brown.

The Council Flower Show was opened for the members and guests after lunch.

The President's Silver Trophy was awarded to the Best of Show winner, Mrs. Ted Corcoran, for her entry "Lazy Bones". Mrs. Corcoran is a member of the Deercreek Garden Club.

The Deercreek Garden Club also was awarded a cash award for the most entries. (16)

In the Class I in artistic arrangements prizes were awarded to: Mrs. Guy Gulick, 1st; Mrs. Bertha Porter, 2nd; Mrs. Walter Wright, 3rd; and Mrs. C. W. Hedges, 4th.

Mrs. Georgia Hot was chairman of the helper committee; Mrs. Dorothy Michel, chairman of the specimen committee with Mrs. Marie Grabill, assisting.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

His Resistance Is Too Low

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a fellow who says he loves me very much. Although he knows I won't go all the way he still tries to break down my resistance. I like him, Abby, but if he continues the way he has been doing, I don't know what I'll do. I've talked to him but it does no good. Is there any way I can get around this without losing him?

LIKE TO KNOW

DEAR LIKE: Let's get one thing straight. A fellow who loves a girl does not encourage her to do something that is immoral, dangerous and degrading. If you lose him you'll be the luckiest girl in the world. Hold out for orange blossoms, Honey. He is offering you poison ivy.

DEAR ABBY: I know a man who is 73 years old. He has 6 children all married and he stays alone. He wants me to go on a trip with him for a couple of months. I am 69 years old, a widow and all my children are grown and on their own. We are just a couple of old pals. There is no funny business going to happen. I would like to go but I'm afraid the gossip might think we were lovebirds. But we are both lonely and single, so why not? What do you say, Abby? You're open-minded.

DEAR ME: I may be open-minded but I don't have holes in my head. "Old pals" don't take trips together for a couple of months unless they are married. If you think the gossip would not regard you as "lovebirds"—you are cuckoo.

DEAR ABBY: I live in an apartment and the boy upstairs always comes down and pesters me. One night he dumped my purse all over the living room floor. I got mad. My mother wasn't home at the time. I couldn't hit him or anything because he is 14 and I am 12. If I went upstairs and did something like that to him he would break my arm. Give me some advice on what to say to him.

MAD

DEAR MAD: Tell him if he can not behave like a gentleman he is not to come to your apartment. A girl shouldn't have to KNOCK a pesty neighbor out—she can LOCK him out.

DEAR ABBY: I am a happily married woman with two wonderful children. I love my husband dearly but I can't seem to control a very strong impulse to show my affection (deep affection) to doctors. The last doctor I went to was on my mind night and day. I would have given anything to have kissed him just one time. This feeling has been going on for years about different doctors I've had. I've tried to fight it, believe me, but I can't help myself. Would you please help me, Abby? I don't know what to do.

MIXED UP
DEAR MIXED: You are confusing gratitude, respect, hero-worship and a little of the old-fashioned school-girl crush with "deep affection." There are many fine WOMEN practicing medicine. Consult one.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Firemen Use New 'Snorkel'

Flexible-Armed Crane Helps Battle Blazes

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Fire Department is using a weird, wonderful contrivance that has stirred up interest across the country.

It is called a Snorkel.

It looks like a giant crane. But the boom, instead of being straight and stiff as a ramrod, bends in the middle like a human arm.

At the hand end of the arm is a big basket. A fireman can stand in the basket and direct a stream of water from a hose with rifle-shot accuracy. The arm just lifts the water marksman to a window or a vantage point above the roof of a burning building and he plays the water on the spot where it will do the most good.

It can be used in rescue operations, too. Perhaps you saw photographs of the long arm picking the injured off the elevated trestle, 35 feet high, after the collision of two trains Monday. Two Snorkels were used to carry 60 of the more than 100 injured from the two trains. It was the first rescue work use on a substantial scale.

The Snorkel is the big brainchild of Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn. He got the idea when he saw a tree trimmer using a smaller contraption built along the same scientific line.

The Pittman Equipment Co. of Grandview, Mo., provided an experimental model last fall. It cost $16,000.

Now the department has three Snorkels. The first one can reach up to the fifth floor level. The other two are bigger. No. 2, with a 75-foot boom, can reach eight stories. No. 3, with a 65-foot boom, can reach seven stories. The larger ones cost $25,000 each.

They just lift the basket up, take on a load and then lower it like the bucket on a scoop shovel.

New Probe Is Asked in Oakes Slaying

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—It is up to the crown to decide whether to reopen this royal colony's prime murder mystery, the 15-year-old Sir Harry Oakes case.

By unanimous vote, the House of Assembly Tuesday asked Scotland Yard to renew investigation into the Oakes slaying.

Raymond Schindler, an American detective who figured in the original probe, said he had information that would crack the crime.

Joining in the Assembly vote was Harold C. Christie, Sir Harry's house guest who found Oakes' battered body on a fire-swept bed July 8, 1943.

The only man ever charged with the slaying was Count Alfred de Marigny, Sir Harry's son-in-law. The Duke of Windsor, then governor of the Bahamas, hired veteran American police to work on the case. De Marigny was acquitted after a sensational trial in which charges were made that a De Marigny fingerprint was planted in Oakes' bedroom.

Oakes' daughter, Nancy, heiress to an estimated 200 million dollars, retained specialist witnesses in a costly fight to win acquittal for her husband. Their marriage later was annulled and each wed other partners.

Pretty with fish fillets: finely chopped parsley and a teaspoon of lemon juice added to drawn butter sauce.

QUARLES' SUCCESSOR?—Word from Washington is that Gordon Gray (above), President Eisenhower's assistant for national security affairs, may be named deputy defense secretary, the post made vacant by death of Donald A. Quarles.

Whale Bumps Hoover, But Only Whale Hurt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Capt. Fred E. Angrick of the President Hoover, nearing Japan, radioed this brief situation report to American President Lines Wednesday: "Whale bumps Hoover. "Hoover unhurt. "Whale bruised."

New Bill Boosts Railroad Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has signed a bill to increase retirement and unemployment benefits to the nation's railroad workers.

The President made no comment in taking the action.

The bill, which came out of Congress May 5, was opposed by railroad management as unduly unjust and out of line with Social Security benefits paid in other lines of work.

It raised the retirement benefits of approximately 840,000 railroad employees by 10 per cent and increases unemployment benefits by 20 per cent, effective June 1.

Both the railroads and the workers will have to pay higher payroll taxes to cover the increases.

Checks of about 364,000 already retired workers will be raised from $118 to $130 a month.

Payments to 133,000 wives or husbands of deceased workers will be raised from $52 to $57 a month.

Railroads have been urging a veto, contending the costs would be excessive. Rail unions, seeking approval of the bill, contend that Congress would override any veto of the measure.

Neither the Senate nor the House took a roll call vote in passing the measure, so there was no clear indication whether Congress would be inclined to support or override a veto. Congress has not yet overridden an Eisenhower veto in his six years in office.

As passed by Congress, the bill provides for a 10 per cent increase in railroad worker retirement benefits on June 1 and a 20 per cent boost in rail unemployment benefits.

The jobless payments, previously limited to a maximum of 26 weeks, are extended to as much as 52 weeks for longtime employees, and this extension is made retroactive to last year. Under this provision, officials said, some once-idled rail employees could collect back payments of more than $500 each.

FB Women Hold Meet

Members of the Farm Bureau Women's Committee held their regular May meeting Monday at the local offices on E. Main St.

Nine Councils were represented. Two Farm Bureau Board members also attended.

Farm Bureau women were asked to bring reports on hazardous road conditions in Pickaway County. Spokesmen said the reports will be compiled and submitted to county and state highway officials. Eight reports already have been turned in.

The ladies discussed plans to conduct a safety survey in which all Farm Bureau members will be contacted to determine how many have had accidents since the first of the year.

THESE reports will be made in June and September. The program is in conjunction with state-side work by Farm Bureau women.

After the meeting, the group went to the local General Telephone Co. building for a tour. Harold Miller of General conducted the tour which included a question and answer period.

Councils represented at the meeting were Wayne No. 1, Frankway, Deercreek, Mondayman, Stage Pond, Darby Neighbors, Jackson, Scioto and Darby No. 7.

Conduct Charges Brings Two Fines

Kate Hill Curry, 25, E. Union St., appearing on a charge of disorderly conduct, was fined $10 and costs in Circleville Municipal Court today.

The court also reimposed $15 and costs on a previous fine. She had been cited here March 6 on a similar disorderly count.

Mrs. Curry was arrested by city police.

Two Drivers Cited For Violations

Two traffic violation cases were on the Circleville Municipal Court docket list today.

Charles G. Metcalf, 21, Zanesville, forfeited a $21.50 bond for speeding at 50 miles per hour in a 25 mile zone.

Burgess Rowe, 30, Wayne, W. Va., was fined $10 and costs for insufficient brakes.

Both drivers were arrested by the State Highway Patrol.

Teen-Agers Need Help in Marriage Plan

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Teen-agers need better preparation than they now show if they are to become mature parents who can raise a generation of future citizens in whose hands the survival of mankind may depend, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers was told today.

Evelyn Millis Duvall, authority on family life, said today's teen-agers are getting married and having children "in larger numbers and at younger ages than ever before." Yet, she said, a recent survey showed high school students failing miserably on questions about children's development.

"Have we any reason to expect the teen-agers to be prepared for parenthood if they had little or no specific education for it?" she asked.

"Far more teen-age marriages," she said, "break up in divorce, annulment and separation than any other age group. Statistically the teen years are the riskiest of all for marriage. Force marriages so frequent in the teen years have a high failure rate. So do adolescent rebellion alliances. Marriage requires maturity—it is not, nor has it ever been, child's play."

Deep-Freeze Fails To Save Boy's Life

LONDON (AP)—A boy died today after undergoing a new type of deep-freeze operation to mend a hole in his heart.

The boy, Keith Fordham, 16, son of a schoolmaster, underwent the surgery Tuesday. The operation at first was pronounced a success, but the boy's condition worsened.

The deep-freeze technique involves cooling the body to 39 degrees below normal by pumping the blood through stainless steel refrigeration tubes. At 59 degrees the heart can be drained and stopped for more than 45 minutes, giving surgeons more time to work.

Tragedy Mars Club Initiation

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP)—The initiation ceremony for a Yakima High School club, being carried out in the water of a small pond east of town, turned into tragedy Tuesday when one of the 16 initiates died.

Henry Sherwood, a 16-year-old sophomore, and 15 other youths dressed in garments made from burlap sacks were being paddled by members of the club, a letterman's organization, in the water when Sherwood sank beneath the surface.

His absence went unnoticed for several minutes. When his companions realized he was missing, they searched and found his body. Attempts to revive the boy failed.

He shot himself in the forehead while playing with his brother's .38 caliber revolver. His 11-year-old sister, Shirley, found his body.

Georgia Con Is Headed Back 'Home'

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—William O. Reagin is en route back to Georgia, where he is considered one of that state's most wanted criminals.

Georgia officials—who say Reagin has 42 years to serve on seven counts of robbery and four of auto theft—picked him up at the Ross County Jail today. He was taken out in handcuffs and placed in leg irons fastened to the floor of a waiting sedan.

He leaned out the window to tell a reporter: "Please thank everyone for what they've done for me. It's been wonderful here."

More than 3,200 residents of this area petitioned Gov. Michael V. DiSalle to keep Reagin in Ohio. But the pleas, including one from Reagin's mother, were turned down. DiSalle explained that Reagin's good record since his escape from a Georgia prison a year ago does not offset his previous bad record.

Reagin escaped with four others May 9, 1958, and was captured here last April 9. He was working as a filling station attendant and had married a local girl. His wife bid him a tearful farewell today in the sheriff's office.

The fugitive has claimed he will be killed if returned to Georgia. He was one of the prisoners at a Buford, Ga., rock quarry prison who broke their legs a few years ago to draw attention to claims of mistreatment.

County RTW Said Invalid In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The State Supreme Court in two decisions Tuesday held county right-to-work ordinances were an invalid invasion of state jurisdiction.

But the 4-2 decision in a Trinity County appeal "in effect gives us a state right-to-work law," declared an employer attorney.

The decision established a new ruling case on organizational picketing in California.

The court, in a reversal of former decisions, declared the State Labor Code makes illegal union picketing of any firm where a majority of employees do not want to become union members. "In effect, this gives us a state right-to-work law," said Nathan Berke, California Assn. of Employers attorney.

The court testing of the county measures started before the 1958 election campaign in which a state right-to-work proposition was a top issue.

Democrat Edmund G. Brown opposed it and won the governorship. William F. Knowland, former U.S. senator running against Brown, backed the right-to-work proposition. Knowland and the proposition were defeated by wide margins.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A great variety of bargains are on tap this week for food shoppers.

Steak, chuck roast, leg of lamb, fryers, shrimp and eggs—all are listed as the No. 1 attraction in the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores. This gives the shopper a choice at both ends of the economic scale. Steak or shrimp at the top, chuck or fryers at the bottom and lamb somewhere in between.

Egg bargains are just about everywhere. Producer prices are the lowest in 18 years. Representatives of 34 farm, poultry and food trade groups met with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson this week to discuss an accelerated merchandising program.

Supermarket prices were slashed again, dropping 2 to 8 cents a dozen over a wide area.

Bumper supplies of lettuce, coupled with the specials on shrimp, make a salad of this sea food delicacy a good hot weather bargain meal. California and Arizona lettuce is being augmented by heads from the Carolinas, Virginia and New Jersey.

Also on the best buy list are bunched or topped western carrots, celery, radishes, green onions, white boiler onions, spinach and kale collards. Supplies of carrots, celery and spinach all are running ahead of year-ago levels.

Somewhat higher this week are peppers, eggplant and cauliflower. Cucumbers are a bit lower but still no better than a moderate buy.

Plenty of fresh fruits also are available at bargain levels. Heading the list are oranges, grapefruit, strawberries, pineapples, watermelons and apples.

Indianapolis Policeman Kills Fleeing Boy, 14

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A 14-year-old boy was shot to death by a policeman early today while fleeing from Christamore House, a social service center.

The dead boy was identified as Orville Grandstaff, Indianapolis. Patrolman Robert B. Potter said he was investigating a burglary report when the boy jumped out of a window and ran down an alley, ignoring two orders to stop.

Cincinnati Police Alert For Possible Art Theft

CINCINNATI (AP)—More than a score of policemen raced to the Cincinnati Art Museum Wednesday night, fearing a burglary at the famous 20 million dollar Lehman art collection which is on display here.

The night watchman had failed to ring in on schedule but officers found him making his rounds.

The collection, made of approximately 600 rare European paintings and other art objects, went on display May 8. It is the first time the entire collection ever has been shown to the public.

River Oilmen Take Two At TL Park

River Oil took both ends of a softball doubleheader at Ted Lew's Park last night, downing General Electric, 12-1, in the first test and Veterans of Foreign Wars, 8-0, in the second.

Homeruns by Ronnie Cousins and Orv Minser and the four hit pitching of Phil Raney paced the first win. Teammate Jack DeLong swung a big club by collecting four hits in five official trips, including a triple and double.

Mary Francis, Cousins and Minser also had two-baggers. Kenny Good of GE poked a triple.

McKinney, whiffing five and walking six, took the loss. Raney fanned seven and walked one.

RO SCORED two runs in the first, four in the second, two in the fourth and four in the sixth. GE picked up its run in the second.

Farnham picked up the second win for River Oil, allowing VFW only two hits. He struck out 11 and walked three.

Raney poled a homer and Cousins a triple to lead the winners' hitting attack. Perry Nelson, four-for-four during the evening, smacked a double as did Cousins, Francis, Minser and DeLong.

Walisa and Fowler hurled for VFW, giving up a total of 13 base hits. Walisa was charged with the loss.

The Oilmen collected three runs in the second, two in the third, one in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Action tonight at the park lists Stonerock's TV vs GE in a game postponed last week due to rain. Friday night the Circleville Merchants meet River Oil and Laurelville takes on VFW.

KER-PLUNK! Mighty Yankees Land in Cellar

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Yankees are last. The club that has won nine American League pennants and seven world championships in 10 years is in the cellar.

You have to go back to May 25, 1940, to find a set of standings that shows the New York Yankees in eighth place at this stage of the season. And those 1940 Yankees, too, were world champions. They had won four consecutive World Series, and had swept the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati in four straight in 1938 and 1939.

Yet that New York Yankee club too was last. By Aug. 9 it still was only a 500 team (51-51), and while it was to make a brief stand in first place, it finished third — missing a fifth consecutive pennant by three games.

Detroit was the champion, by one game over Cleveland.

Of the 16 players Manager Casey Stengel used as Detroit plunked the Yankees into the cellar with a 13-6 crash Wednesday, only Enos Slaughter was in organized ball in 1940. He was the 24-year-old country boy playing outfield for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Stengel? He was managing the National League's old Boston Bees, who escaped the cellar in the last month and finished seventh.

While the nation's baseball fans eyed the bottom of the AL standings, Cleveland clung to the top with a 5-3 victory at Washington Wednesday night. The Chicago White Sox remained within half a game of the Indians by beating Baltimore 5-2. Kansas City whipped Boston 8-2.

Right-hander Frank Lary gave up a two-run homer to Yogi Berra in the first inning, then blanked the Yankees on four hits until the ninth, when Mickey Mantle's homer and Berra's second scored four runs.

Eddie Yost had three of Detroit's 19 hits and drove in six runs with two homers, one a grand slam. That was after Charlie Maxwell singled home two runs for a tie in the fifth against

Machen Asks Curb On Inge's Match

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Heavyweight contender Eddie Machen, victorious Wednesday night over unranked Rueben Vargas, now switches his battling to the courts, seeking to halt the Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson title bout.

Eddie and his pilot, Sid Flaherty, are scheduled to appear in federal court in New York June 1 when their petition seeking to force Johansson into a return bout with Machen will be heard.

A verdict favoring Eddie could disrupt plans for the June 25 meeting in New York between champion Patterson and the Swede who kayoed Machen Sept. 14. Flaherty contends he and Eddie hold a contract calling for the return match before Inge boxes anyone else.

loser Bobby Shantz (0-2) and Gail Harris then broke the deadlock with a homer that opened a three-run sixth.

Rocky Colavito and Vic Power each drove in a pair of runs for the Indians. Herb Score (4-2) beat the Senators on six hits.

Dick Donovan (2-2) gained his first complete game for the White Sox with a four-hitter. The Sox, who twice came from behind, won it in the fifth on singles by Luis Aparicio and Nellie Fox and Sherm Lollar's sacrifice fly that made it 3-2.

A two-run single by Frank House gave the A's a 3-1 lead in the fourth. Roger Maris drove in three runs, two with his 10th homer.

The St. Louis Cardinals finally have made a move to see how the other half lives in that National League pennant chase.

They're still seventh, just five days free of the cellar and eight games shy of first place, but the Redbirds are on their first real winning streak of the season after whipping Pittsburgh and winless Bob Friend 11-1 Wednesday night.

It was the Cards' fourth straight success and they did it on the six-hit pitching of Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell and the second successive three-RBI game by Bill White, who has six hits in eight trips for two nights.

That put St. Louis within four games of the first division after Los Angeles slipped to fourth by splitting a two-night doubleheader with Cincinnati. The fifth-place Reds beat the Dodgers 7-5 after an opening 8-4 defeat.

The San Francisco Giants retained second, ending Milwaukee's winning streak at six games, 6-3. Chicago's persistent Cubs remained in third with a 7-5 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Mizzell (5-1) walked two, struck out four and shut out the Pirates on four hits over the last eight innings. The Cards had a six-run second inning.

Young Mike McCormick (2-2) tamed the Braves, with ninth-inning relief help from Sam Jones and three RBIs from Felipe Alou. The outfielder belted a two-run homer in the fourth off loser Bob Buhl, then doubled home a tying run and scored the clincher on Daryl Spencer's double in a two-run sixth.

Joe Pignatano belted a three-run homer as the Dodgers wrapped up the opener with six runs in the seventh inning after Roy McMillan missed second base on what would have been an inning-ending double play. Danny McDevitt (3-2) gave up 10 hits, after holding the Reds hitless for five innings, while beating Brooks Lawrence (3-4).

Don Newcombe, now 2-2 against his old mates, won the nightcap for the Reds with a six-hitter. Ernie Banks' 10th homer, a three-run drive in the eighth, won for the Cubs and Moe Drabowsky (2-3), who needed relief after Harry Hanebrink's pinch two-run homer in the seventh.

Broncos Roll In DV League

MS Nine Falls
In 4-1 Contest

Ashville coasted to a 4-1 victory over visiting Madison South yesterday behind the two-hit pitching of Jim McNeal.

The Bronco hurler fanned 10 and walked two to push Ashville's Darby Valley League record to eight wins and one loss, good enough for a current first place standing in the circuit.

The Broncos, owning a 13-3 overall mark, are slated for a DVL test with Jonathan Alder today. The game will be played at Ashville. Ashville smacked six hits in yesterday's test, with pitcher McNeal getting two of them. All bingles for the day were one-baggers.

THE WINNERS accumulated their runs with three markers in the third and one in the fourth. Madison South got its lone tally in the fourth.

Davis took the loss for Madison South, setting down eight on three strikes and walking two.

MacPhail Expects Yankees To Trade

BALTIMORE (AP) — Lee MacPhail, last year a top hand in the Yankee front office and now general manager of the Baltimore Orioles, expects the New Yorkers to start talking trade in earnest.

"Unless they go on a long winning streak right away, I expect them to make a major trade before the June 15 deadline," MacPhail said.

The Yankees, now in last place, open a four-game weekend series here Friday and the prospect of a Baltimore-New York trade was on nearly everybody's mind at Memorial Stadium.

Joe Pignatano belted a three-run homer as the Dodgers wrapped up the opener with six runs in the seventh inning after Roy McMillan missed second base on what would have been an inning-ending double play. Danny McDevitt (3-2) gave up 10 hits, after holding the Reds hitless for five innings, while beating Brooks Lawrence (3-4).

Don Newcombe, now 2-2 against his old mates, won the nightcap for the Reds with a six-hitter.

Speedway Lacks Veteran Drivers

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The Indianapolis Motor Speedway is suffering from an acute shortage of experienced drivers, with 44 cars still to make qualification runs for the 500-mile race May 30.

Only about 30 men with the ability and experience to drive at more than 140 miles an hour were available for those 44 cars. They will get their chance to qualify Saturday and Sunday.

Fourteen cars qualified last weekend, leaving 19 places open in the 33-car starting lineup. After 19 more cars have qualified, the slower ones may be bumped from the lineup by faster qualifiers.

The driver shortage may lead to considerable car hopping in the final qualifications. A car may qualify only once, but a driver whose car is eliminated may try again in another.

Hilliards Racing Meet Opens June 2

Hilliards Raceway is readying for opening night of its harness racing meet on June 2.

Hilliards will close its meet on July 18. Outstanding races scheduled for the meet include the $5,000 added HTA pacing stake with no less than 10 of the nation's fastest four-year-old pacers to be held June 20.

Hilliards Raceway is the sixth leg of the touring HTA Pace sponsored by the Harness Tracks of America, an organization of the 20 leading extended pari-mutuel tracks in the United States and Canada.

Thus far in the HTA spring series, Esquire Direct piloted by Billy Haughton, has won the first leg at Rosecroft Raceway in Maryland, and O'Brien Hanover, trained by Del Miller and driven by Dick Buxton, won the second leg at Lebanon Raceway.

THE NIGHT of May 29, the touring sidewheelers move into Maywood Park in Chicago, then on to Hazel Park in Detroit on the 6th of June, back to southern Ohio at Hamilton Raceway on June 13, and into Hilliards Raceway June 20.

Among the top stables moving into Hilliards Raceway for the 41-night meeting which continues through July 18, is the Bob Farrington stable.

Young Farrington, the leading driver at Hilliards last year, already this year has taken the driving title at Aurora Downs in Illinois and is currently starting at Painesville Raceway, near Cleveland.

Other top drivers with stall reservations at Hilliards are Howard Phillips, Ted Taylor, Lee Watson, Jim Mace, Forrest Short, Curly Smart, Jule Louisa and Herman Foist.

Opening night feature June 2nd will be the traditional $1,750 Pocahontas Stake for 22 Class pacers.

Twenty Nine sidewheelers made the March 15th payment, and among the leaders are George Van Camp's Gaelic Gold and T.D.'s Adios, Adios Hill, Frisco Direct, Sunset Dale, and Terminal.

In addition to the Pocahontas Pace and HTA Pace, race secretary Jimmy Lynch has included a $3,000 Invitational Trot on the final night of racing.

Outfielder Richie Santos, VMI junior, comes from Ecuador. He earned his baseball letter as a sophomore.

Millions of Pike, Muskies Dumped into Ohio Waters

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More than 50 million walleyes and 44,000 muskellunge were dumped into Ohio's favored fishing spots this week.

But don't start baiting your hooks! All were newly hatched fry, and the survivors are years away from skillet size.

The baby walleyes, hatched in the Division of Wildlife's Put-In-Bay establishment, were well-scattered in the planting process. Some 35 million were released over the reef area in Lake Erie, and 16 million went into inland lakes and streams.

A round million went into Archbold Reservoir in Fulton County, Fostoria Reservoir in Sandusky, Atwood Reservoir in Tuscarawas, Clearfork Reservoir in Richland, the Cuyahoga River in Portage, the Grant River in Ashtabula, Mosquito Creek Reservoir in Trumbull, Norwalk Reservoir No. 3 in Huron, Pleasant Hill Reservoir in Richland, Burr Oak Reservoir in Athens, Leesville Reservoir in Carroll, Piedmont Reservoir in Belmont, Seneca Lake in Noble, Hoover Reservoir in Franklin, and Indian Lake in Logan.

Clyde Reservoir in Sandusky received 300,000, St. Joseph River in Williams 120,000, Swanton Reservoir in Lucas 110,000, and Turkey Foot Creek South in Henry, 120,000.

The tiny fry were 1/4 to 1/2 inch long when released. Lakes in which the muskies, from the Kincaid Hatchery near

Abbe Vo. entered

Abbe Vo. owned and trained by Emmitt Ebenhach, Route 2, Williamsport, is entered in the fourth race at Lebanon Raceway tomorrow night.

Abbe Vo., with Ebenhach at the reins, will race in a D Pace over the half mile oval. Lebanon is in its 17th night of racing.

Sheriff Warns Of Con Men

Says Gypsies Rob While They 'Pray'

Pickaway County Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff today warned county residents of gyp artists and their minded gypsies currently creating havoc in the area.

Radcliff's statements were prompted by the rash of complaints filed lately due to home ransackings and robberies by gypsies and con men high pressuring residents out of large sums of money.

Radcliff cited several instances of recent examples. He said gypsies relieved a man of $75 while "praying" for him, which included touching his body where he lost his wallet.

A Franklin County woman was robbed of $1,400 by gypsies under the same pretenses. Earlier this week an Athens County woman lost $1,800, while other attempts were made in Hocking and Vinton counties by gypsies.

A RINGGOLD resident was stopped on the road while collecting his mail. Gypsies started "praying" for him and he caught one woman reaching into his pocket for his wallet.

Gypsies and con men usually concentrate on elderly people using sympathy as an introduction. They claim they can cure them of any ailment by praying.

While some will be praying, others will slip into the home and ransack it in a matter of minutes. Other times they will offer to do odd jobs and wait until the owner leaves the house, then they will enter and steal anything of value.

Radcliff urged anyone spotting these types of individuals to call his office immediately, reporting automobile license number, description of their car and persons.

The Sheriff said most gypsies are of foreign descent and are dark skinned. They will usually be accompanied by several women.

Con men have struck the county under the guise of aluminum salesmen. They will stop at a home and tell the owner that he needs a new roof or siding for his home or barn.

MOST OWNERS have said they didn't need any work done, at which time the salesmen will say, "we'll show you that you do." They will proceed to put on the roof or siding and then demand payment.

Most elderly couples will be too scared to protest and pay. Others will sign a harmless sheet of paper, hoping to get rid of the salesmen, and then find out the paper was a promissory note.

One southwestern area farm was taken for $3,200. These men can be identified by their high pressure tactics. If any approach, the Sheriff urged all residents to call immediately so they may be apprehended.

"Gypsies and con men use every scheme imaginable," said Radcliff, "and any person or persons arousing suspicion, should be reported at once."

One of Ohio's natural bridges is located in Good Hope Twp., near the town of Rockbridge. This is a sandstone formation, with a span of about 150 feet. It is inaccessible to the public.

Ohio House Passes Bill To Control Dairies

clude a ban on sale of milk at a lower price in one area than in another, except to meet competition; prohibit big dairies from giving equipment and making security loans to stores agreeing to handle their products, and ban premiums, bonuses or gifts in connection with the sale of milk.

The House completed passage of a Senate-approved bill lowering from one year to 40 days the residence requirement for eligible voters of other states moving into Ohio for the right to ballot for president and vice president only. The principle for the reduced residence requirement was established in a constitutional amendment approved by the voters.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to repeal one of the Sunday blue laws—to permit fishing on Sunday. Of course, its enactment only would legalize what hundreds of thousands of Ohioans are doing every Sunday in spite of the old law.

Another bill sent to the Senate would require Ohioans to have fishing licenses to take frogs and turtles.

A bill also passed by the House and sent to the Senate would create municipal university taxing districts which school districts would be permitted to join.

The Senate, after long debate, passed and sent to the House a bill to exempt non-profit associations like hospitals from responsibility for injury or death of patients because of the acts of employees unless gross negligence is established. The vote was 29-1 with Sen. Danny D. Johnson (D-Tuscarawas), the chief opponent, abstaining from voting.

The Senate also sent to the House a bill providing for the licensing of plumbers in villages and townships. Uniform licensing regulations would be drawn up by the Public Health Council. General health districts then would have the option of adopting the regulations. The bill, if it becomes law, would not apply to cities which have the right to adopt their own licensing ordinances.

The House Welfare Committee recommended passage of an administration bill to replace the three-member Pardon and Parole Commission with a five-member group appointed by the governor with consent of the Senate.

The House adopted a resolution congratulating James I. Smith III of the Circleville Herald for receiving an Ohio State Bar Assn. journalism award. Another resolution congratulated Miss Carole Weiler on being selected Ohio State University May Queen.

Only One Ohio Solon Shuns Support Curb

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic Rep. Michael J. Kirwan was the only Ohio congressman to vote against a House-approved bill setting a $50,000 limit on farm price support loan contracts through the Commodity Credit Corp. The measure passed Wednesday, 261-165.
